

COMMITTEE MEMBERS from the Church of Ascension made final plans this week for the annual Arts and Crafts Fair on Saturday, June 20, from 1 to 8 p.m.

Planners to Consider Goya Tract Map

Revised plans for the development of the Goya property will be presented to the Planning Commission at 8 o'clock tonight (Thursday) in City Hall.

The tract, which contains 12.8 acres, is above the Wistaria Vine parking lot. If plans are approved, it will be developed by Gale Hersey and Robert Michaels of Arcadia Investment Co.

THE SOUTHWEST corner of the property has been re-

Sewer Plans On Council Agenda

Proposals to install sewer lines in three areas of Sierra Madre will be discussed by the City Council at the next meeting June 23.

The petitions, which were presented to the Council about two months ago, call for sewer lines in Baldwin and Mt. Trail. A third proposed district includes the area between Sierra Madre Blvd. and Grand View, from Baldwin to Michillinda.

Also on the Council agenda will be proposals to erect a master TV antenna on a mountain behind the city. Three companies have submitted plans to the city.

At the last meeting, councilmen granted the Foothill Area Improvement Association a temporary permit to maintain the present antenna which was installed by Edwin G. Meyer, former owner of Meyer TV.

The cable from this antenna has been disconnected by the Forest Service, a move which killed TV reception in many areas of the canyon.

The Council also will consider bids on the planned improvements to Flannery Avenue.

FAIA Election Of Officers Set Tonight

The Foothill Area Improvement Association will elect officers tonight (Thursday) at a meeting in the basement of the First Western Bank here. The session starts at 8 p.m.

Nominated are Robert Imus and Maurice Perkins, president; T. R. Stetson, Geo. Black, Jack Dace and Perkins, vice president; Mrs. Bea Iffrig, Mrs. Anita Imus, secretary; and George Basili, Ben Hegel and Mrs. Wilcox, treasurer.

The group currently is working on projects involving the old canyon pool, television transmission in the canyon and sub-standard canyon property.

A barbecue was held by the group on June 11 at the Nature Friends clubhouse. Seventy-five persons attended.

Water New Trees, Bevington Asks Local Residents

Trees, like human beings, cannot live by bread alone. They need water, too.

Thus spoke City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington yesterday in urging residents to help water the approximately 550 new trees planted in parkways at city expense.

City crews, Mr. Bevington explained, plan to water the trees periodically. But, he added, they will grow better if the residents lend a hand.

This advice also applies to the business district in which the city has planted many beautiful Indian Laurels. These trees adapt themselves readily to encroaching concrete, exhaust fumes and other characteristics of a business area.

Queen for Day Leaves for Strawberry Fete

Mrs. Donoghue was chosen as queen after requesting an exercise cycle for her daughter, Allison May, 9, who has been confined to a wheel chair for the past four months, a victim of Legg Perthes disease. Allison must remain in the wheel chair for about three and a half more years.

Ascension Art Fair Saturday

The fifth annual Arts and Crafts Fair, sponsored by the Women of the Church of the Ascension, will be held on the church grounds Saturday, June 20, from 1 to 8 p.m. The fair this year is under the direction of Mrs. H. J. Summers.

Artists from the area will exhibit oil paintings, water colors, ceramics, handmade jewelry, antiques, and other art objects.

IN ADDITION to the art exhibits, there will be a display of ecclesiastical vestments, a collection of crucifixes, and a 15th century brass and copper alms dish from St. Alban's, Hartfordshire, England, through the courtesy of Mrs. F. James Blakey, Pasadena.

John Hora, of Pasadena, will show his art film, "Images of Light, Line and Curve," which won an honorable mention at the Brussels Fair.

There will be a magic show for children put on by Joseph Dauben.

THE YOUNG People's Fellowship, under the direction of Mmes. Elmer Dauben and Perry Brown, will serve tea from 2:30 to 4 p.m.

A buffet supper will be served from 5:30 to 7 p.m., for which tickets may be purchased at the door.

Ralph Steele Is Ruled Insane

Ralph Steele, 62-year-old murder suspect from Sierra Madre, was ruled insane last week and committed to a mental hospital by Pasadena Superior Court Judge H. Burton Noble.

Judge Noble ordered the commitment after reading reports by two court appointed psychiatrists, who said Steele is insane now and was unbalanced at the time of the two offenses.

He had been charged with beating his wife, Isabelle, to death with a hammer last April 15 and attacking her attorney with the same weapon the following day.

If Steele recovers his sanity he will be returned to Superior Court to stand trial for the murder and attack, Judge Noble said.

The commitment was requested by Steele's attorney, Daniel N. Busby. There was no objection by Deputy District Attorney William Smith.

Although the Steeles had been divorced in 1951, they lived in separate apartments in a court owned by Mrs. Steele at 385 N. Baldwin.

Rescue Crew Display Feature Of Breakfast

A dress rehearsal by the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew will be one of the features of the annual Community Breakfast June 27, sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club.

Members of the Rescue Squad, who have saved dozens of hikers stranded in the mountains, will display the equipment they use and explain safety rules for mountain climbing.

The breakfast in Sierra Madre Memorial Park will be from 7 a.m. until noon. One ticket, priced at $1, will buy a country-style breakfast of flapjacks, ham and all the trimmings. By adding 89 cents you can exchange your ticket for a silver dollar which will buy $1.50 in merchandise at many Sierra Madre stores.

Man Dies In Chantry Auto Crash

A Pasadena man was killed last Thursday afternoon when his car turned over on the Chantry Flats road about a half mile above the Sierra Madre Ranger Station.

Dead is George M. Cash Jr., of 1770 Oxford, Pasadena.

Sierra Madre police said Cash apparently lost control of his car immediately after passing another auto driven by Stephen Braddon, also of the Oxford St. address. Both men were driving north.

The Cash car hit the bank and turned over, pinning the driver underneath it. He was dead on arrival at Sierra Madre Hospital.

A native of Van Nuys, Cash has served in the Korean War with the U.S. Navy. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Connie H. McNeill, Los Angeles; father, George M. Cash Sr., Van Nuys; sister, Mrs. George R. Svihus, Van Nuys; and two brothers, William C. Cash, Phoenix, and Robert F. McNeill, Presidio, Monterey.

City Grows 29 Per Cent In 9 Years

It is estimated that the population of Sierra Madre on April 1, 1959, was 9,360, an increase of approximately 600 or 6.9 per cent from the total shown by the special census of May 15, 1956, according to the Department of Finance.

The census of April 1, 1950, reported the city's population as 1,723. In the nine years since then, it is estimated that the city has added almost 2,100 new residents, representing a 1950-1959 growth of 28.7 per cent.

The number of occupied dwelling units in Sierra Madre, reported as 2,481 on April 1, 1950, increased to 3,150 at the time of the last special census in May, 1956. It is estimated that on April 1, 1959, the number had risen to 3,400.

There has been a decline in the number of persons per occupied dwelling unit (or household) since the census of 1950, and the average number of persons per household is estimated at 2.75 at the present time.

Funeral Services Observed for Mrs. Laura Fields

Mrs. Laura Leona Fields, 501 E. Montecito, died June 15 in a Los Angeles hospital following a brief illness. She was 87 years old.

A native of Philadelphia, Mrs. Fields had been a resident of Sierra Madre for 11 years.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lee C. Ellerbrock, with whom she made her home; a son, Carlyle C. Fields, New Jersey; 12 grandchildren, and 13 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held yesterday at Ripple Mortuary Chapel with Rev. George Lindsay of the Congregational Church officiating.

Pioneer Day Plans Are Near Completion

Bagpipes, Mounted Units, Parade Feature

A mounted police unit, a bagpipe band and the "Bulging Bells from the PTA" will be features of Pioneer Jubilee Days, Friday and Saturday, June 26 and 27.

The celebration is being sponsored by the Lions Club here in cooperation with other civic groups.

Grand marshal of the Saturday parade will be 83-year-old "Doc" Vail of Baldwin Park, long a fixture in Tournament of Roses parades. Doc will ride his favorite Palomino, 23-year-old Lucky Girl, who will be adorned with silver trappings.

DOC WILL be supported by division marshalls Ed Brinker and Rollo Grover.

Other parade entrants include the Arcadia Mounted Police, Corral 48 Pony Punters, Caledonia Bagpipe Band, Sheriff's Posse, floats, children's units and numerous dignitaries.

A variety show will be presented at the Woman's Clubhouse at 7:30 and 9 p.m. on June 27.

YOGI DON BLYTH, of Ripley's Believe It or Not fame, will present his fire eating and glass swallowing act.

Supporting Don will be acts of local and out-of-town talent, including the "Bulging Bells of the PTA," the Pasadena Accordion Band from the Flaherty School of Music and the band's Gold Medal winner of 1957, Trudy Lynn Johnson of Sierra Madre.

Save 2 Lives With New Equipment

A new city resuscitator combined with fast action by the local Police Department has been credited with saving two lives recently.

G. Norman Kennedy, 521 E. Orange Grove, told how his 5-year-old son, Jimmy, "was given medication on May 20 which apparently resulted in his death."

HIS HEART had stopped beating, said Mr. Kennedy, and there was no visible respiration. The medicine apparently was too strong.

Mrs. Kennedy, who was alone with the child, called the police who sent the resuscitator crew immediately. The youngster was soon breathing and is now reported out of danger.

Mr. Kennedy said an officer from the Police Department here called at his home a few days ago to see how the boy was doing.

The incident, said Kennedy, demonstrates the value of the city's having proper equipment available for emergencies.

THE CITY had bought the resuscitator only about three weeks ago to replace an outmoded one.

The same day it was used for the Kennedy boy, the resuscitator saved the life of an 18-month-old Pasadena baby that was having convulsions.

Free Children's Show Scheduled On June 24

Wednesday matinee for children will be inaugurated by the Sierra Madre Theater at 12:30, June 24. The first matinee will be free.

Wednesday afternoon movies throughout the summer will feature western, adventure and comedy films especially selected for children. Admission for children up to 14 years of age will be 25 cents.

Features at the free show on June 24 will be "Gypsy Colt," starring Ward Bond, the Three Stooges and a cartoon.

THEY'RE OFF and running, proclaims Mayor Charles H. James, to the big Pioneer Days celebration, Friday and Saturday June 26 and 27. Getting an ear full is Dr. Paul Narcowich, president of the Lions Club, sponsor of the event.

Bid to Cut School Tuition Fee Rejected

La Canada's bid to avoid paying 25 per cent of the cost of educating the community's junior high school pupils was rejected Tuesday night by the Pasadena Board of Education.

The Board, in a firmly worded message, agreed that a tuition formula worked out between La Canada, Sierra Madre and Pasadena was a fair agreement.

The Sierra Madre Board of Education agreed at its last meeting to pay the additional cost, which amounts for the coming year to $27,056.

THE FORMULA provides that within four years both Sierra Madre and La Canada will be paying the full cost of educating seventh and eighth graders in Pasadena.

La Canada board members on June 9 opposed the tuition agreement, arguing that Pasadena has a high overhead in the high school district.

The La Canadians also said that what they don't pay in tuition to educate the junior high students "is made up to a great extent by high school taxes paid directly by La Canada taxpayers."

Board members agreed that the financial picture might change enough in that time to outdate the three-year agreement.

If the districts are unable to reach an agreement, a formula for payment will be set up by the County Board of Education.

CONDUCTORS Herbert von Krajan and Johnny Green, and singing star Jane Powell are the artists who will appear on the opening week of the 38th season of symphonies under the stars in Hollywood Bowl. Father, Dear Father

The dandelion once was selected as the appropriate flower for Father's Day because "the more it is trampled on, the more it grows."

That about sums up the plight of Father. Once a year we throw him a bouquet—or a tie—and chalk up another duty well done.

But the old man surely is worthy of better treatment because, as The World Book Encyclopedia points out, his name is a title of honor given to those who establish anything important in human affairs.

TAKE GEORGE WASHINGTON, for example, known as the Father of His Country. Washington shares that title with such illustrious Romans as Cicero, Julius Caesar and the emperor Augustus.

Homer is called the Father of Epic Poetry because of his "Iliad" and the "Odyssey." Geoffrey Chaucer, whose "Canterbury Tales" established a standard form of English verse, is known as the Father of English Poetry.

Every physician honors the Father of Medicine when he takes the oath devised by the Greek physician Hippocrates. And any man who ever baited a hook knows that Izaak Walton, author of "The Compleat Angler," is the Father of Angling.

THE AGE of the atom has ushered in even more "fathers." J. Robert Oppenheimer has been called the Father of the Atomic Bomb, while Dr. Edward Teller is credited with being the Father of the Hydrogen Bomb. Admiral Hyman Rickover is known as the Father of the Atomic Submarine.

That's enough to put any father's head in the clouds. But lest he begin to feel giddy from these associations, let him remember that Satan is called the Father of Lies.

THE GOLDEN SPIKE

Gentlemen:

Ninety years ago a golden spike driven with appropriate ceremony at Promontory Point, Utah, completed the first transcontinental railroad. It was the culmination of six years strenuous contest with seemingly insurmountable mountain barriers in hostile Indian territory.

The mountain barriers have since been replaced by mountains of political overhead heaped on the tracks. Hostile Indians have been succeeded by hostile politicians in government. Private enterprise on rails now is the happy hunting ground for swarms of regulators and tax collectors.

Exorbitant taxes levied against railroads are used to roll out the tax-free carpet of airports, highways, and waterways, for competitive transport. Our mass transportation is being destroyed while we drown in oceans of traffic.

Our railroads, as a means of safe and sane relief from our motorized sub-paradise, deserve better treatment by lawmakers. In the interest of fair play in transportation, we appeal to them to CEASE AND DESIST FROM THE PRACTICE OF TAKING FROM THE RAILROADS THAT WHICH IS FREELY GIVEN TO ALL FORMS OF NON-RAIL TRANSPORT.

Very respectfully
K. Fritz Schumacher

Small Business Threatened by Big Labor

By Edgar W. Hiestand
Rep., 21st Dist., Calif.

Twenty-seven million Americans, the owners and employees of small business, should have a greater voice in pending labor reform legislation. Someone said the labor debate is a battle of the giants; big labor and big business. I don't agree with that altogether, but there's more truth to it than I like to see.

Small business has not hitherto had the representation it deserves. That's why I made an hour long speech in the House of Representatives last Monday—to present and explain small business's stake in the labor legislation.

Small business is often battered about in the huge triangle of big government, big labor, and big business. But big government, through the efforts of clear-thinking Congressmen of both parties, is trying to curb extravagant spending which inevitably produces the bureaucratic growth that chokes business. As to the monopolistic power of big business, anti-trust laws protect the public interest, including small business. What frightens me is the possibility that Congress may do nothing to protect small business from the third great force, organized labor.

THE PRINCIPLE threatens to the interests of small business, so far as organized

Lee Shippey asks

What Do You Think?

If I were addressing this year's graduates—which, thank Heaven, I'm not—I would advise each of them to keep a small but solid notebook in which he could jot down those quotations and fragments of eternal truth he thinks will be most valuable to him in his career. I suspect that in a hundred such brief quotations one could sum up all the essential wisdom of the ages, and if one took them to heart and made them part of his philosophy—which really means part of his heart and soul—he might discover his previous sense of values was all wrong, and if he doesn't adopt new standards he will be cheating himself out of his greatest possibilities.

Unfortunately, the highest aspiration of many of our graduates is to get a soft job and a fast car and work up to the Country Club set. It is worth while to remember that a lot of the greatest persons who ever lived never had soft jobs nor fast cars and couldn't afford the Country Club set.

BUT I WAS talking about notebooks for bits of eternal truth, which should guide one in making a career for himself. I doubt that any thought could be more valuable, day in and day out, in any career than the simple truth: "A thing of beauty is a joy forever" for there isn't one of us, rich or poor, successful or not, who cannot enjoy beauty everyday if he will only look for it. Unfortunately, many of us, instead of looking for it, prefer to shroud ourselves in the ugliest thing in the world, which is meanness.

Another quote worth jotting down is "Men at some time are masters of their fate." Too many of us are inclined to think it is other persons who get all the breaks. The fact is that all of us get our opportunities to do something great, if only we have prepared ourselves to meet the opportunities, and every one of us has a chance to live greatly every day, whether or not we ever live grandly. Anyone who lives honestly, generously, compassionately, benevolently and intelligently is living greatly.

AESOP the slave lived far more greatly than Midas ever dreamed of living. Everyone who meets life with courage, unselfishness and good will for all of us is living far more successfully than anyone who is getting rich or powerful through merciless or unfair means. And most of those who live successfully in those ways also prosper materially, for they have so many people pulling for them.

All of us like to see anyone we greatly admire win success and happiness, and most of us will do what we can to help him win them. Believe me, this is not mere talk. I have had some seemingly crushing blows in my life, yet the goodness of other persons, some of them strangers, has turned them all into blessings.

ion organizers with the demand that he "sign-up" his employees, whether or not they want to join the union. This is a powerful threat because few small concerns have the economic strength to hold out against picket pressure. On the other hand, if the employer yields, he is betraying the right of his employees to select their own bargaining representatives, and they may strike his plant in protest.

The principle of the secondary boycott is to strangle the employer by cutting him off from customers and suppliers. The business groups manipulated by such tactics usually have no direct interest in the dispute. But the full pressure of the union is exerted upon them to cease transactions with the firm under attack. To small business, the secondary boycott is a deadly weapon.

The Kennedy Bill, as presently constructed, would not protect small business from these three threats. It is unfortunate that many people, encouraged by part of the press, take the position that "we need labor reform, therefore pass the Kennedy Bill." The bill should not be adopted in its present form because it omits these essential provisions. That's why we're trying hard to correct it. I think we're making headway, and that the labor reform bill finally enacted will include protection for small business.

AT THE RECENT kindergarten registration an obviously progeny-pooped parent thundered: "Where do I sign up to get rid of the last one?"

Around the Square

By Tommy Ann Miller

A rabbit born with only one ear occupies one of the carefully tended hutches owned by Jimmy Halferty. West Highland rabbit-raiser. The healthy five-week old rabbit leans a mite to port, however, as his one pinkie sprouts from the left side of his head.

Jimmy, an enterprising 10-year-old (son of the James G. Halferty) also raises and sells pigeons and Nile Valley worms. He's found that mixing Nile worms with rabbit pellets makes excellent fertilizer—which he also sells, by the cubic foot.

The Halferty offspring, Jimmy and 7-year-old Debbie, occasionally act in television commercials.

GOOD recouping report on Connie Wood (wife of former City Councilman, David Wood) who is resting at home following surgery at Huntington Hospital.

QUESTION ANSWERED. Booker T. Washington's son, Booker T. II, reportedly lived at 276 East Grand View in 1925—for about two years—before moving to Pasadena. Several Sierra Madreans recall attending school here with his grand children, Booker T. III and Nettie, and the family is fondly remembered.

GRADUATE GOLFER. Peter James has entered the eighth annual Pasadena City Junior Gold Championship tournament at Brookside Park, June 23-25. The 17-year-old son of Mayor Charles H. James is graduating from Pasadena High and heads for Stanford this September.

THE BOB COIT family plans a permanent move to Santa Barbara this weekend—and has their North Auburn home (formerly owned by Mrs. Coit's parents, the McAndrews) up for sale. Their son, Robert Jr., who severely injured his leg in a bicycle accident here last year, should be back in regular school (he's been having home tutoring) when the pin in his femur is removed this summer.

SHOCKING STALKING. Speaking of worms, one husband invested heavily in several hundred Nile Valley worms and sowed them throughout the yard to enrich the soil. When it came time to move, the worm-sower decided to reap his harvest and replant them on the new property. How did he remove the Egyptian wigglies?

He attached extension cord wires to a pitchfork, plugged into an electric outlet, and (after donning rubber boot to prevent possible electrocution) staked about the yard plugging the pitchfork in and out—literally shocking the worms up out of the ground.

SIX WEEKS of spring travels ended for the Earl T. Knowles' (he's the super Sunset Home salesman) and they're back at Santa Anita Court. The couple drove to Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado—before flying to Ohio for further relative reunions.

HUME HOME. Now that Edward A. Hume has been promoted to general attorney—claims for Southern Pacific, the family has moved to San Francisco, company headquarters. (Their home has been purchased by Bob and Yvonne Osti of Osti's Nursery).

Just what does a "general attorney-claims" do? He investigates and adjusts personal injury and property damage claims against the railroad. That's what.

VICTORY ROW. Stanford engineering senior, Dick Draeger, was in San Pedro recently as part of the eight-man rowing crew in the annual Harbach Race—when Stanford cooped the cup from USC and UCLA. This is the fourth Harbach race for Dick, son of the Arthur Draegers, 78 Esperanza.

$10 Billion Federal 'Gift' to Banks Cited

By Robert G. Spivack

Washington

THE BANKERS' BONANZA—President Eisenhower's proposals to increase the interest rates comes as no surprise to those who have followed the Administration's funnymoney policy in the last seven years. From the day George M. Humphrey took over as secretary of the treasury and continuing right up to now under Secretary Anderson's tutelage the Administration has been committed to higher and higher interest rates.

Ostensibly the idea is to "curb inflation." How well the policy has not worked anyone can judge for himself. The cost of living is now at an all-time peak and the outlook is for even higher prices. Corporate earnings are also at an all-time high and are expected to climb higher in 1960. Wages are fairly high but have nowhere kept up with prices or profits, in the mass production industries.

In its latest proposal the administration has decided it must "sweeten" this giant giveaway to the commercial banks by also increasing the interest rates on the "B" and "H" savings bonds that you and I might still be buying. So there will be an increase here from the present 3 1/2 per cent to 3 3/4 per cent. This comes a little late since the interest rates on government bonds held by the banks have been juggled at least five or six times in the last half dozen years.

Their profits stagger the imagination—but somehow editors of most newspapers around the country have not found it expedient to have reporters go digging into the subject.

ONE OF THE stories that editors shrugged off was told by Rep. Wright Patman (D. Texas) in a speech last winter. "The government of the United States," he said, "made a free gift of slightly more than $10 billion worth of U. S. government securities to the private commercial banks of this country. . . . If the government gave away $10 billion under most of the methods of gift-giving, the country would hear a great deal about it. . . ."

Patman went on to say that the $10 billions given to the commercial banks might seem like an exaggeration. "But the term 'gift' is literally correct."

"The more exact amount of this gift is $10,410,000,000. It was made in several lots between Nov. 27, 1957 and Nov. 26, 1958. The source of my figure is the Federal Reserve Bulletin for January, 1959, Page 33. . . . By reference to p. 33 one may see that at the end of November 1957 all commercial banks in the U. S. held $56,910,000,000 in U. S. government obligations.

"A year later, at the end of Nov. 1958, these banks held $67,320,000,000 of government securities. . . ."

HOW DID THEY DO IT?—While all banks benefitted to some extent Patman explained that 72 per cent of these securities went to only 2 per cent of the banks in the nation. Almost 25 per cent of the bonanza went to 18 banks in New York City.

"How, how did the commercial banks of the country acquire this $10.4 billion of government securities? In a nutshell, they created the money with which to buy them. They created new money in this amount on the credit of the U. S. which cost them not one penny, (emphasis mine—RGS.)"

Patman explained that the Federal Reserve gave its member banks additional "reserves" and that because of the fractional reserve system on which commercial banks operate this meant that each bank could create "several dollars of new money for each dollar of new reserves."

It was not only enormous profits to which Patman objected, he explained. It was that this system of allowing the banks to create money—credit has inherent within it great future dangers to the economy. (Copyright by Robert G. Spivack)

The story is based on a conflict in the life of a modern young couple when the husband, an advertising executive, can't find a place in his scheme of things for his wife's sudden acceptance of the Christian faith.

Ethel Waters portrays a practical nurse who exerts a profound influence on the young couple through her day-by-day faith in God.

"The unhappiness and failure of many marriages is due not only to wrong concepts of marriage," Rev. Hesse stated, "but also to the fact that in many instances the constituents of the home, husband, wife and children, are not aware of their obligations. These must be clear to all members of the family and they must be met and fulfilled if the home is to be characterized by happiness and permanence."

ON SUNDAY evening at 7, the Walther League will meet in the church assembly room, Ken Kirmse, president of the youth organization, will preside during the election of new officers and the evening program. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sheppard serve as counselors for the youth of the church.

Piano Course Offered at Music Mart

The summer quarter of the piano course for adults and teenagers is being offered by the Arcadia Music Mart, 21 E. Huntington Dr., Arcadia. The course started June 11.

The course, given in Southern California for the past year and a half, is designed to teach the playing of ballads, popular music, and semi-classics. It is not a conventional beginner's course and will not enable the student to play classical music. A thorough groundwork in keyboard harmony and chord construction will be offered, however. The method to be used, devised by Harold Graham, is believed to eliminate a major portion of the dull and tedious part of the learning process; and is aimed at adults and teenagers who have no musical background, but want to learn to play for their own enjoyment.

Beginning students will be furnished with the music and instruction material essential to the course. The entire cost, including music and instruction manual, is $14.95 for 10 weeks.

The Class will meet once a week for a 50-minute session.

For further information call Hillcrest 6-3111.

Field Girls Receive Awards at Banquet

Sixth Grade Girl Scout Troops 363 and 339 of Eugene Field school completed the year of scouting with a father-daughter banquet and Court of Awards recently at the Trinity Presbyterian Church. Fellowship Hall was decorated in the Girl Scout colors of yellow and green, using yellow marguerites and magnolia leaves.

Rev. Carl Beilstein entertained after dinner with the leading of group singing and several solos, accompanied by his wife. The Court of Awards followed the entertainment.

During the Sixth Grade, Girl Scouts work on proficiency badges toward the First Class rank.

TROOP 363, working together during the year under the leadership of Mrs. Edward Baker and co-leaders Mrs. Thomas McClintock, Mrs. Claude Hunter and Mrs. James Donahue, completed the adventure, outdoor cook, campcraft, backyard camper, seamstress and bird badges. The members of Troop 363 are Anne Baker, Kathy Donahue, Wendy Harris, Diana Hunter, Karen Keithotz, Cathy Lundring, Beth McClintock, Judy Paulson, Laurie Philip and Sue Willis.

TROOP 339, working under the leadership of Mrs. John Morris and co-leaders Mrs. Howard Morgridge, Mrs. Robert Gibson, and Mrs. Hollis Lindstrom, completed the adventurer, sports, hospitality, seamstress interior decorating and ice skating badges.

Members of Troop 339 are Karen Bull, Cathy Cass, Gail Gibson, Donna Hicks, Vicki Kane, Vicki Kirksey, Janet Lindstrom, Jerilyn Jandegian, Linda Mayer, Susan McMahon, Sarah Morgridge, Judy Morris, June Nichols, Kim Rosander, Linda Wellman, and Cathy Kivett.

IN ADDITION, the girls worked individually on badges of their own choice. One hundred and seventy-nine badges were earned among the two troops of 26 girls.

The troops also combined to hold a boy-girl party "Spring Carnival" in the garden of the T. N. McClintock home. The party was gay with fortune teller, joke photographer, games, dancing, refreshments and many carnival decorations.

Edison Co. Completes 8-Mile Tunnel

One of the biggest tunnels ever dug in the West—eight miles through solid granite—has been completed. It was announced yesterday by P. J. Langlie, Edison district manager.

Two digging crews, blasting towards each other with explosives, met deep in the heart of a mountain in the High Sierra, 65 miles north-east of Fresno.

The tunnel, 20 feet in diameter, will link Southern California Edison Company's "Mammoth Pool" dam, now under construction, with a powerhouse which will generate 126,000 kilowatts of electricity for Southern and Central California.

One of the highest earth-fill dams in the world, "Mammoth Pool" may also be one of the last great hydroelectric projects in the West. Most of the good hydro sites, those large enough to be economically feasible, have already been developed, according to Edison engineers.

The dam is scheduled to be completed shortly after the first of the year, and the entire project will be finished in time to store the melting mountain snows next spring.

Constructed at a cost of $49,600,000, the Mammoth Pool project will add another important link to Edison's $200,000,000 Big Creek chain of reservoirs, dams and powerhouses in the High Sierra.

Local Babe Ruth Team Defeats Norwalk Squad

The local Babe Ruth League played a Norwalk Babe Ruth team in a practice game at La Salle Field last Saturday, defeating them 7-6. The Sierra Madre team included players from each of the four teams in the league and was managed by Henry Nuetzel. The Norwalk team is managed by "Rudy" Alkire, who has handled Little League teams for many years, including teams which won the Ohio Championship three years.

His son, "Butch" Alkire, fanned 14 Sierra Madre hitters but couldn't stem the tide set up against him by two errors which cost Norwalk the game. On the mound for Sierra Madre were Dennis Ower, Rickie Nakano and Duncan Cason. These teams will play a return engagement at La Salle this Saturday, June 20, at 3 p.m.

LITTLE LEAGUE NOTES
The Seven-Up Indians, managed by Les Barkley, have taken the Little League-Major lead away from the Royal Drug Orioles, managed by Dean Irwin. The Roess-Arnold Braves and the Rasmussen Red Sox are the cause of all the Orioles' trouble — the former beating them 3-0, while the latter tied them 3-3. John Englert manages the Braves and Walt Milford the Red Sox.

The regular Little League season is nearly over, the only games remaining being the play-off of tie games as well as postponed games. Eugene Bell, coach of the Civic Club Yankees, will be tournament director of the Little League area playoffs at Heasley Field in the latter part of July.

If your name is Thomas, you are "twice favored." Doubly blessed by genius or fate, Thomases who have risen to fame run the gamut from Jefferson to Thumb. Among the noteworthies in many fields are Paine, Dewey, Gray, Macaulay, Chippendale, Gainsborough, Edison, Mix and Dorsey.

There is also, of course, the traditional "Doubting Thomas." If you are one of these, who demand reassurance, you can depend on us for complete safety of your invested savings.

We protect them by investment in choice first mortgages on good homes in this community, U.S. Bonds, and other prime assets; by high reserves; and by insurance with Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Final Rites Held For Mrs. Smith, Hotel Proprietor

Funeral services have been held for Mrs. Bertha May Smith, who died June 3 in a Glendale sanitarium. She was 87 years old.

Mrs. Smith came to Sierra Madre in 1917 and, with her late husband, Frank V. Smith, operated the old Sierra Madre Hotel until her retirement in 1953. Since that time, she made her home in Glendale with her late son, William F. Stark, who died two months ago.

Surviving are two grandsons, James Stark, of Sierra Madre, and John K. Sark, Covina and four great grandchildren. Rev. George Lindsay of the Congregational Church officiated at funeral services. The Ripple Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Girls Day Camp Offers 'Trip Around the World'

"Around the World in Six Weeks" is the theme of Pasadena Girls Club's six weeks of day camp.

Each week the girls will learn about a different country. There will be folk dancing, singing, crafts, cooking, plays, costumes, games, stories and movies, all centered around the habits and customs of a specific country.

Girls from 6 to 12 will visit France, Spain, Japan, Italy, Switzerland, Holland and Hawaii, and movies of these country will be shown each week of the grand tour.

A swimming program is also included in the holiday trip and excursions to places with a foreign atmosphere are a part of the plans. The fare for each week's visit to a different country is $3.50 and the hours of day camp are from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Registrations blanks may be requested by a call to the Girls Club at SYcamore 6-1611.

Miss Betty Jane Donlon, program assistant, will be assisted by counselors, Miss Lucinda Clark and Miss Jerilyn Patten. All three of these young ladies have worked with youth groups in the United States and in foreign countries. There will also be a group of teen-age girls, recommended by the Volunteer Bureau, to give further assistance.

Regular club activities will continue through July 3 from 2 to 5 p.m. each weekday.

Warning: Alcohol and Tranquilizers Don't Mix

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Assn.)

QUESTION—Is it dangerous to take tranquilizers when one is drinking alcoholic beverages?—O.C.

ANSWER—It certainly is. Alcohol, after an initial amount, is a depressant. Tranquilizers are sedative in their action. It is easy, therefore, to understand that the simultaneous use of the two in significant amounts could be disastrous if the individual were to engage in activities demanding quick coordinative movement, fast thinking, or judgment of some scope.

Despite the above negative aspects, the usefulness of tranquilizers has made the "drying-out" program following a bout of alcoholism shorter and more effective. Naturally, this therapy would occur under the direction of a physician.

It is unfortunate that questions like this must be answered, but it is tragically true that we have among us irresponsible, infantile people who will ignore, pervert and subvert their doctor's prescription and advice.

Q.—Please explain thrush, and if riboflavin is helpful in curing or preventing it?—G.H.

A.—Thrush, medically known as monilia, is an infection of the mucous membranes of the mouth. It is caused by a parasitic fungus. In the most common form the disease is mild and limited to the mouth and throat. The thrush victim usually recovers completely with proper treatment.

Individuals who are debilitated or have poor resistance and some who have taken certain antibiotic drugs for extended periods of time may be more susceptible to this infection than others. In these cases the infection may cause severe illness and be difficult to cure.

Riboflavin has no specific or preventive value against thrush. Good nutrition and general good health are advantageous in overcoming the disease.

Q.—What causes my nose to itch?—H.I.

A.—Itching of the nose is most commonly due to an irritation in the skin-lined portion, or vestibule, of the nasal cavity. Such an irritation can be caused by a skin disorder like eczema or a mild infection of the lining skin. The hairs in the area often touch the sensitive membranes causing an itch. If the sensation comes from higher up, the most likely cause would be an allergy.

Q.—Do fibroids ever become cancerous? Is an operation for this condition advised?

Printing is more than just typesetting and press run to our expert craftsmen. Carefully prepared layout, type selection and expert printing make each job eminently suited to its purpose.

Predict No Albacore In 1959

By Al Miyadi
ALBACORE—Bimbo, air spotter for the commercials, down in flames with his Albacore inside the channel prediction.

The DFG's marine research vessel, the Scofield, earlier this week reported catching amidst five square miles of Albacore 90 miles west by north of Pt. Conception.

The above, according to Harold Clemens, DFG tuna expert, means the fish not only bypassed the usual southern fishing grounds but that they have swung way to the outside, way beyond the range of the sportfishing fleet.

In short: No Albacore for 1959.

ROOSTERFISH—Anyhow, Dick Shaver, skipper of Pierpoint's Hornet, reported sighting a roosterfish cruising near the surface one early morning last week in Toyon Bay, Catalina. Roosters normally are habitués of the California Gulf, rarely taken elsewhere. The roosterfish, so-called because of his fork-like dorsal fin, is much prized as a gamefish, noted particularly for his tremendous speed and power. I've taken roosters at Loreto (Gulfside, Baja), but my biggest trophy barely edged the five-pound mark. Fifty-pounders, however, are not uncommon.

ON THE BEACH—Jerry Jig Esten, also of the Yellowtail Jig, guested on Bob Gross' boat on a trek to the Deep Hole (55 miles north of Pt. Dume by fast outboard), took limits of bull bass (calico over five pounds)—on the Jerry Jig, of course. . . . the day after, I fished inside of the Paradise Cove barge and the kelp, sacked eight calico (released half dozen small ones), two log barracuda . . . my rig was a freshwater spinning outfit, six-pound mono, no leaders, number eight hook . . . one of the bass hit 10 pounds. . . . Pierpoint employee Bill Nott and Dick Conde worked the Long Beach Federal Breakwater late last week near dusktime (7:30 p.m.), in two hours took 43 calico and bull bass (half that number were immediately released so as to stay within the legal limit of ten) . . . The pair relled mainly on the so-called "bug-eye" feathers, colors yellow and

WHY PRINTED CIRCUITS ARE MORE COSTLY TO REPAIR!

The printed circuit is designed to eliminate the wires in the radio or television. It is an etching on a plastic board that is used in a radio or television on which are also mounted tube sockets, resistors, transformers, etc. This process is very satisfactory in the manufacturing end to save time and money BUT the cost of repair has increased considerably due to poor construction, expanding of the board due to heat, bending of the board in moving the set or removing tubes, and aging of the board causes printed sections to come loose from the board. Just about all with several exceptions of the manufacturers use printed circuits and some add to the insult by placing the circuit in a position making service very difficult or hiding the circuit. When the printed circuit breaks the break is usually too small to see with the naked eye and sometimes too small to detect with most testing devices. Wiring circuits had very very little trouble with the wiring part of it so printed circuits was not an improvement but just a way to make it cheaper but in the long run will cost the customer more and the service man will get the blame, not the manufacturer who made the set. The vast majority of service men detect the printed circuit because it makes more work and he has to charge more so he has a rough time getting his bill and the customer is unhappy. For a television that does not use printed circuits call this associated dealer . . .

Santa Monica's Jack Rea reports his newest all-day runner, the Pegasus, on its maiden run sacked full limits of scooters, but that Eddie Frige and boat may be reskidded as a half-day . . .
